

Ice Hockey

By Andrea and Simone

History of hockey

This sport was born in England between 1863 and 1875 .

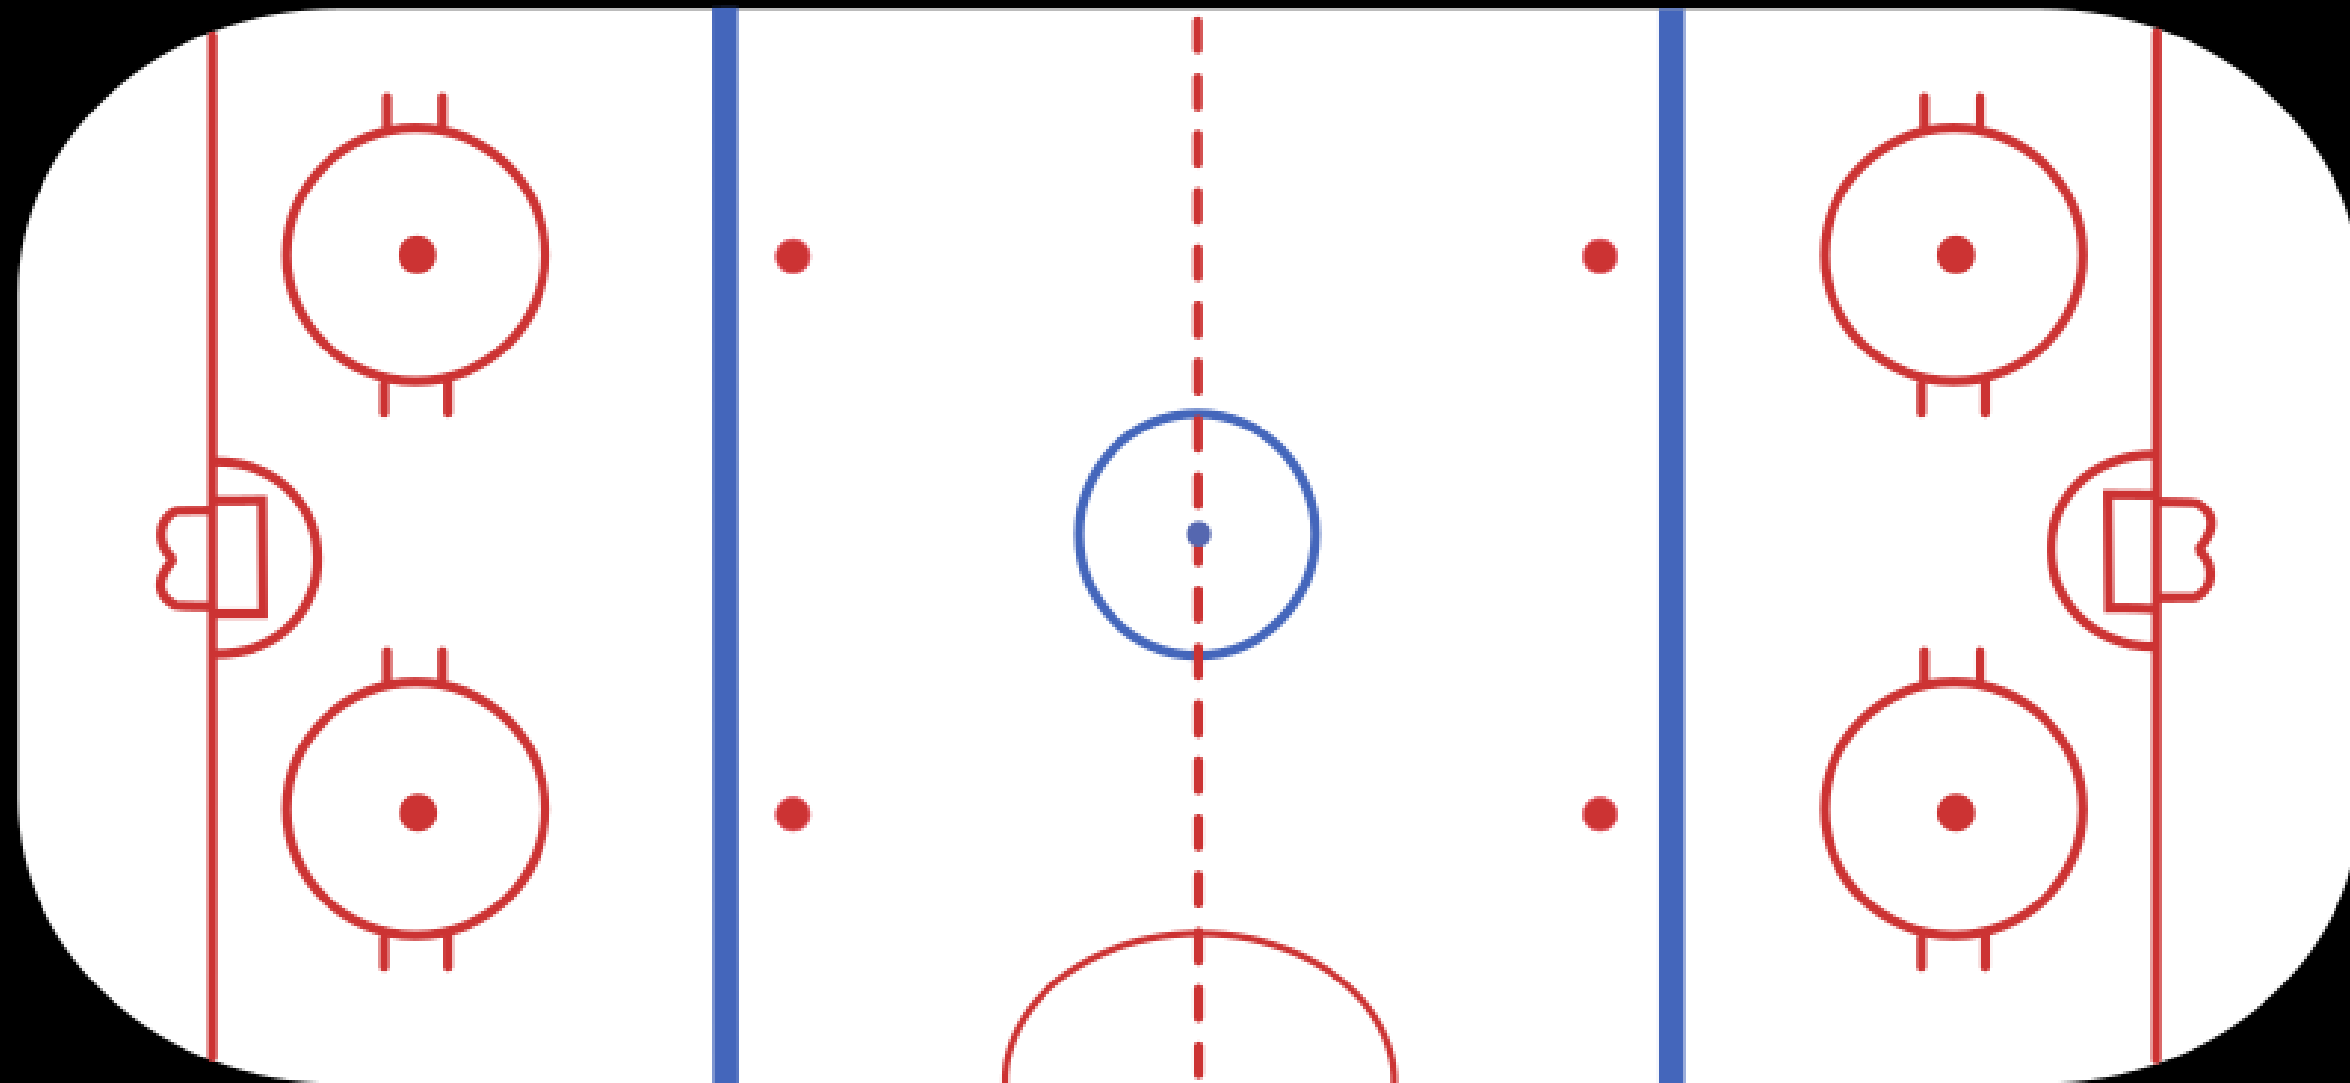

Ice hockey derives from field hockey.

The origin dates back 4000 years ago.

The Greeks enjoyed playing a game with clubs and balls, which later spread not only to Europe, but also to the Netherlands

The field of ice hockey

Ice hockey is played on a white frozen surface with a minimum size of 56 x 26 meters. The corners of the field are rounded with a circular arc with a radius varying between 7 and 8.5 metres.

The rules

Ice hockey games are played with 6 players, one of which is the goalkeeper. The goalkeeper can be replaced by another player. Ice hockey is a very intense paced game. Each player only plays for about a minute at a time.

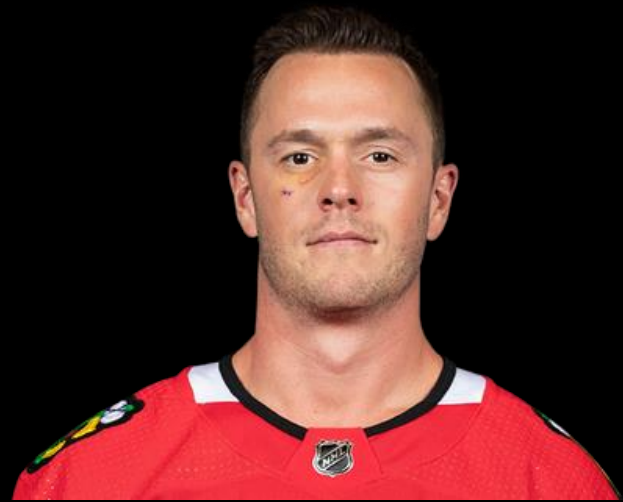

An ice hockey match lasts 60 minutes. The duration of the game is divided into 3 thirds of 20 minutes each with a 15 minute break. If after 60 minutes the situation is still a draw, the game goes to extra time or penalties.

Joseph Pavelski

Joseph James Pavelski is an American professional ice hockey player and alternate captain for the Dallas Star of the National Hockey League. Pavelski won a silver medal in 2010 winter Olympics in Vancouver.

Jonathan Toews

Jonathan Bryan Toews is a Canadian professional ice hockey centre and an unrestricted free agent. Toews most recently played for the Chicago Blackhawks of the National Hockey League, where he served as the team's captain between 2008 and 2023.

Connor McDavid

Connor Andrew McDavid is a Canadian professional ice hockey player and is captain of the Edmonton Oilers of the National Hockey League. Recording 100 points during the 2016/2017 season, McDavid also became the youngest player to win the Art Ross Trophy.

Fair Play

It is a concept that was born in England and it was initially conceived for sports competitions.

Fair play means being loyal during sporting competitions.

The principal concepts are fair competition, team spirit, equality and respect.
